

The George Mason University Sojourner Truth
Lecture presents:

Dr. Marilyn Sanders Mobley

Toni Morrison and the Word Work of Truth Telling

Toni Morrison's readers and critics typically focus more on the "what" than the "how" of her writing. In Toni Morrison and the Geopoetics of Place, Race, and Be/longing, Marilyn Sanders Mobley analyzes Morrison's expressed narrative intention of providing "spaces for the reader" to help us understand the narrative strategies in her work.

Tuesday, February 18th

1:30pm-2:45pm

Fenwick Main Reading Room

(George Mason University campus)

College of Humanities
and Social Sciences

AFRICAN AND AFRICAN AMERICAN
STUDIES PROGRAM
George Mason University®

College of Humanities
and Social Sciences

WOMEN AND GENDER
STUDIES PROGRAM
George Mason University®